Poison Me Sweetly (Long Beach Series) (Volume 1) Dani Matthews

This book is recommended for ages 18+. It's not every day I wake up with a hot guy handcuffed to my bed with my neighbor's fuzzy, pink handcuffs. I'm not that type of girl. Well, I guess maybe I am...when I'm completely hammered. My name is Zoey, and I live my life according to one rule. Don't let anyone get close. Everyone I have ever loved has abandoned me in some way or another. This is the only rule that matters to me, and when I'm not at the university--taking classes for a future I've lost all interest in--I'm finding trouble. Guys are nothing more than a pleasurable distraction, and alcohol's become my best friend. But then Caleb Preston enters my world and throws it entirely off its axis. He's not the type of guy that allows a girl to cuff him to her bed, only to be humiliated the next morning because in my drunken stupor the night before--I forgot to grab the key when I stole the cuffs. The man should have been running for the hills, but ironically enough, he seems fascinated by my craziness and determined to finish what we started. Caleb scares me with the way he looks at me, and he challenges me in ways that I don't want to be challenged. He makes me feel when I don't want to feel anything. He's the type of guy a girl can't walk away from unless she's missing her torn out heart--which will be right there in his hands as he moves on to some other conquest. He's the kind of guy I avoid like the plague. So why now? Why him? If dealing with Caleb isn't difficult enough, dealing with my dead twin brother appearing occasionally before my eyes is a sure fire way to send me over the edge. This is a full-length novel with no cliff hanger.
