CLUB CREAMY - AMY

Desperate to get work my way into upper management, I didn't hesitate to agree to doing anything for the promotion. I had no idea what Mr. Taylor had in store for me...

Working a seemingly dead end job at a call center was probably the worst fate for anyone to face, but I was hopeful that I would get lucky and get promoted to upper management -- a cozy desk job that sounded a million times better than my current position of making cold sale calls day in and day out.

Mr. Taylor, my older but sexy boss called me into his office to discuss the promotion, but it came with one little catch. I would have to participate in a trial for some experimental medication. I agreed, willing to do anything for that promotion. Later that evening after I'd been sent home for a nap, I couldn't help but notice how much my body had changed and... oh, I felt intense desired I had never felt before. Mr. Taylor had instructed me to call him, any time day or night, to report any effects I was feeling so I called him immediately! It seemed like I was only going to find the relief I needed if I let him take me hard and without protection.

CLUB CREAMY - KELLY

My boyfriend wasn't home just yet so I only had myself for my entertainment, I would have to do.

What I thought was a new kind of contraceptive actually turned out to be something else entirely! Until my boyfriend explained to me what was happening and about the "initiation" his secret club entailed, I had no idea why my body was changing so much, why I was suddenly producing something thick and creamy. The changes in my body left me with a craving so strong that I didn't question it, and instead let my boyfriend and his handsome friend take me hard and without protection at the same time. What else was I supposed to do other than let the two of them fill me up completely?

CLUB CREAMY - LEXI

"It's a bit of a pharmaceutical endeavor, you test out some medicine and let us observe you."

There was no denying it -- after my manager drastically cut my hours, I was facing some serious financial problems. Namely, I was going to be evicted if I didn't come up with enough cash to make rent. Trying to take my mind off of it, I accepted an invitation to my coworker, Stella's, house for dinner one evening. Her house was so impressive! Big and fancy, but I couldn't figure out how she paid for it since her hours had also been cut. I asked her husband, James, what he did for a living, and one thing lead to another and there was a pretty great offer on the table for me if I wanted to accept it. I was up for anything that would keep me from being evicted, and the payout was going to be much more than just enough to cover my rent. Of course I accepted! All I had to do was test some medication for a week and report back with results. Well, those results were... a lot bigger and creamier than I expected. Speaking of things I didn't expect, I never thought that James and his partner Brian would take me so hard and without protection, even Stella got in on the action!
